Connecting People to Performance

"...an invaluable service in bringing producers and presenters together."
CEO, Critical Stages

A national agenda

The performing arts industry is a highly inter-dependent ecology. PAC Australia performs a unique and key role as Australia's primary national industry connector. We have been transforming the business of presenting across Australia for over 30 years and our members continuously shape our national cultural identity.

What we do

Leadership

We identify key industry issues and set the agenda to progress those issues, both independently and through collaborative action with strategic partners. We promote the value, and advocate for the needs of people and organisations in the performing arts industry. [Your advocate].

Connection

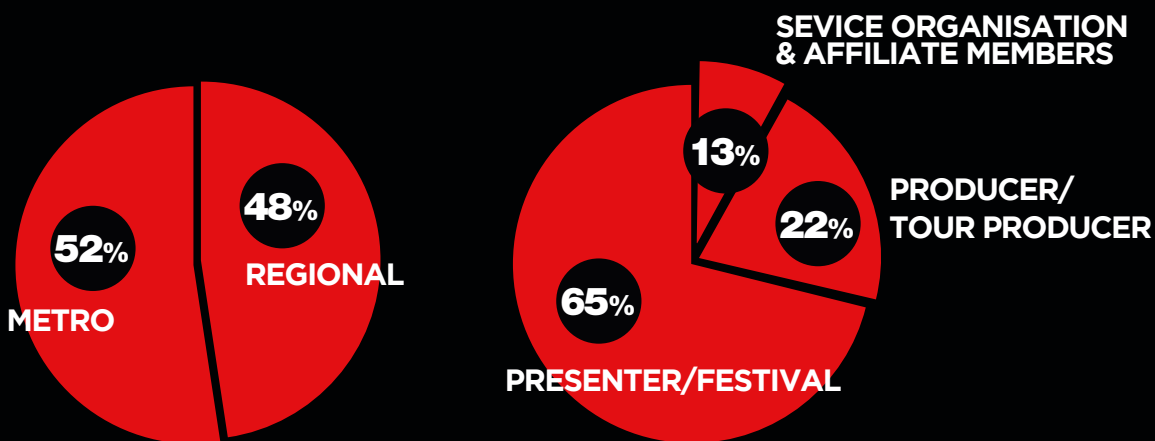

We connect the industry in ways that create shared understanding and build relationships that support presenting and touring. [Your broker].

Best Practice

We share information to help individuals and organisations in our membership develop best practice in audience development and presenting. [Your coach]
